Appraisals from the guests of CHTF

Mr. John Prescott, Former Deputy Prime Minister of the UK:

It is not only the essence but also the future of China. As what I have seen, China's new technologies are developing rapidly.

Mr. Jim Rogers, Investment Expert of Wall Street:

China is going to be the most important country in the 21st century. The 19th century is the century of the UK, the 20th century is the century of the US and the 21st century is going to be the century of China. What's happening in China is changing the world and it is continuing to change the world.

Mr. Manuel Sánchez, Deputy Governor of the Bank of Mexico:

I am really honored to be here in Shenzhen city of this beautiful country, and especially the city is one of China's most active centers of industry in commerce.

Mr. Huateng Ma, CEO of Tencent - one of largest internet brand in China:

As my first time attended CHTF in 1999, I got the chance to learn about the capital market. And Tencent has achieved the success on the basis of its first financing.

Mr. Christopher A. Pissarides, Winner of Nobel Memorial Prize in Economic Sciences 2010:

We knew that, the further development of industrialization and high technology are the most important tasks of China.
